Performing the Spoken Word Archive

HENRY F. HALL BUILDING
1455 DE MAISONNEUVE WEST, H-110
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12TH, 2012
EXHIBITION AT 6 PM
READINGS AT 7 PM

The SSHRC IG SPOKENWEB research team is pleased to announce their first event in the "Performing the Spoken Word Archive" series. This event explores various ways that the archive can re-enter public space and become performance. Poets George Bowering and David McFadden will "read alongside their past selves" that is, selections of archival audio recorded during the Sir George Williams University Poetry Reading Series (1966-1974).

The readings will be followed by a panel discussion on the audio archive and the social and cultural import of the poetry reading, with Stuart Ross, Jason Camlot and Darren Wershler.

The event will also feature an exhibition of period photos from the Concordia Archives, an interactive sound installation, and audience members can participate in an Oral History memory clinic, where they will be invited to record their experiences with performed poetry.
